

experienced similar loss, offered its assistance as well.

Enrollment Dashboard

In preliminary figures, Assistant Superintendent Cheryl Wangemen said that the district superseded its budgeted enrollment but did not reach the demographers' estimates

English Learner process

English Learner Facilitator Stephanie Johnson and Executive Director of Exceptional Student Services Rick Frampton gave a presentation on the program that serves students from 40 different languages. Students are identified when they register with the district if they say that a language other than English is spoken at home.

The district has won two Promising Practice awards from the state for Adult Literacy and the annual International Dinner and an English Learning Excellence Award for two years in a row for being among the top 10 Colorado districts.

Career and Technical Education

Executive Director of Learning Services Dr. Lori Benton offered a presentation on the district's participation in the Pikes Peak Business and Education Alliance to take advantage of business-funded opportunities such as internships and on-the-job training for students, many of which result in earning college as well as high school credit.

Benton said that 841 high school students and 431 middle school students participated last year.
