

ment for all K-8 facilities will be closed to out-of-district students. There is still room at the high schools.

Taylor asked why open enrollment is still allowed for MA. Wangeman responded that since MA has no physical boundaries, all students are open enrolled.

Brofft commented that the population of MA is also more fluid than that of the traditional schools.

Regarding structure of the proposed bond, Brofft said she has met with the district's financial advisor and learned that the residential tax rate will not be determined until April 18.

Wangeman said that the Safe Route to Schools grant, which will support the construction of a trail from Palmer Ridge and Lewis-Palmer Middle School to Lewis-Palmer Elementary, will not be received until 2020. She said progress is slow because it is a federal grant.

Recognitions

Lewis-Palmer High School senior AnneMarie Ackerman was recognized for being selected for the U.S. Senate Youth Program (see the photo on page 1). This program recognizes students with a strong academic record, volunteer activity, and an interest in government. Two students are selected from each state. The students will spend a week in Washington, D.C., meeting with Senate members and learning about the operation of the government.

Some notable alumni of the program are Sen. Corey Gardner, Sen. Susan Collins, and Gov. Chris Christie.

Ackerman plans to major in political science and attend law school. She will also receive a $10,000 scholarship.

Steve Waldmann introduced winners of the recent chess competition. One hundred seventeen students participated, from kindergarten through high school.

Students from Palmer Lake Elementary School presented a performance of patriotic music and a demonstration of learning involving a responsive classroom stressing the use of daily morning meetings to keep students in touch with one another and stressing respect and sharing.
