Koger said the potential tank would have a capacity of 1.2 million gallons and a diameter of about 95 feet, and could be partially buried, leaving about 15 feet of height above the ground. He said that Donala Water and Sanitation District has a similar tank on Holbein Drive in Gleneagle. The town may offer to put fire hydrants near the tank for emergency use as a benefit to the neighborhood, he said.

RRR Director Jim Bergeron explained to OCN that Red Rock Ranch consists of the original Red Rock Ranch against the mountains, plus Forest View Acres and Cloven Hoof Estates. To the south and east of Red Rock Ranch are Sundance Estates and Shiloh Pines, which make up the rest of Forest View Acres Water District.

Woodmoor Improvement Association Board of Directors, March 28

Board explains covenant violation adjudication, plans FireWise Day

By Jackie Burhans

The Woodmoor Improvement Association (WIA) board heard owners' comments, explained the covenant enforcement process, discussed the upcoming FireWise Day, and covered other topics during the snow-delayed March meeting.

Covenant violation adjudication

Owners who attended the board meeting raised concerns over how a covenant violation regarding their dog was handled and expressed concern over what evidence was considered and documented. Woodmoor Public Safety (WPS) Chief Kevin Nielsen explained that when WIA gets a complaint they have to verify the situation and then WIA takes over as the complainant. In a situation like a dog incident where WPS is not present, they talk to the reporting party and another adult who is unrelated to the offense. If they can identify two statements, the complaint is considered to be verified and is turned over to the board, which brings it to a covenant hearing.

President Erik Stensland explained that all WIA meetings except for executive sessions are open meetings. Executive sessions are only for personnel and legal matters. Stensland noted that the board has a specific process where they read the complaint and give the owner a chance to respond. More information on rules, regulations, and covenant procedures can be found in the Policies, Procedures, Rules and Regulations document that can be found at <http://bit.ly/wia-rules-regs>.

FireWise Day on May 7

Forestry Director Robert Benjamin updated the board on the upcoming community FireWise event, which will be held at the Tri Lakes United Methodist Church at 20256 Hunting Downs Way in Monument. The event will be on Saturday, May 7 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. with presentations by Fire Marshal John Vincent and Dave Root of the Colorado State Forest Service. Banners will be placed throughout Woodmoor and volunteers are meeting two more times ahead of the event to work on it. The goal is to involve and work with surrounding communities to help all communities be fire wise. Palmer Lake will also be hosting FireWise activities; for more information, see the Palmer Lake Town Council article on page 14.
